DNC Privacy Policy

The Privacy Act National Privacy Principles (amended 21 December 2001) imposed new regulations for the collection, use and disclosure of personal information, plus other matters including data quality and security, openness, access and correction.

No warranty is given that the information is free of infection by computer viruses or other contamination, nor that access to the website or any part of it will not suffer from interruption from time to time, without notice. All links to other websites included on this website are provided for convenience only.

DNC WorkWear as managers of this website does not accept any responsibility for the accuracy, availability, or appropriateness to the user's purposes, of any information provided.

If you choose to email us or complete forms on the website your contact details and information that you provide will be data based. It is your right to ask for disclosure of any of your personal information that may be held and on request, we will remove your details from our records.

DNC will only use the personal information that you have provided to us for the express purpose for which you provided it. It will not use it for any other purpose without your prior approval.

For further information regarding compliance with the Act, visit the Privacy Commissioner's website at www.privacy.gov.au
